Connaught Place

Built under the British Raj, Connaught Place is named after the Duke of Connaught. Built as a Lutyen's Delhi masterpiece with a Central Business District, it is now one of the main financial, commercial, and business hubs in Delhi. With Georgian architecture based on the Royal Crescent in Bath, England, it holds a prominent position among the city's historic structures. With Georgian architecture based on the Royal Crescent in Bath, England, it holds a prominent position among the city's historic structures.

Taj Mahal

The Taj Mahal is an ivory-white marble mausoleum located on the south bank of the Yamuna River in Agra, India. It was commissioned in 1632 by the Mughal emperor Shah Jahan (1628-1658) to contain the tomb of Mumtaz Mahal, his favorite wife.

Buddh International Circuit (F-1 Track)

F-1 Track or Buddh International Circuit is the only Formula 1 track in India constructed in the Greater Noida Area at the proximity of the capital. Buddh International Circuit hosted India's first ever F1 Grand Prix in the year 2011. Since then the racing track became an all time favourite for F1 drivers and members of organizing agencies. The track was officially inaugurated in 2011 and today it is visited by leisure travellers to a great extent.

Akshardham Temple

'Akshardham' means the divine abode of God. It is hailed as an eternal place of devotion, purity and peace. Swaminarayan Akshardham at New Delhi is a Mandir – an abode of God, a Hindu house of worship, and a spiritual and cultural campus dedicated to devotion, learning and harmony. Timeless Hindu spiritual messages, vibrant devotional traditions and ancient architecture all are echoed in its art and architecture.

India Gate

India Gate is one of the largest memorials to British Indian soldiers killed in World War I. It was created by Sir Edwin Lutyens and stands 160 feet tall in the middle of New Delhi. At its base, the Amar Jawan Jyoti stands. This eternal light commemorates the unnamed troops who gave their life for our country.

Red Fort

Red Fort was built in the year 1648 by the Mughal Emperor Shah Jahan on the banks of the River Yamuna. Red Fort has witnessed the lavish lifestyles of royal families, as well as the coronations of successive emperors. At the fort, musicians of the royal court would entertain the emperor and his visitors. There are two major entrances to the fort: Delhi Gate and Lahore Gate. The latter takes its name from the fact that it faces Lahore in Pakistan.

Pari Chowk

Pari Chowk is a bustling area and a significant landmark in Greater Noida. It is one of the oldest real estate hotspot in the city and a well-known area.
